Another way to monetize this content - and more importantly, do it instantly without any monetization requirements - is affiliate marketing.

Especially now, when there are so many AI tools that can create videos similar to the Skeleton niche. And honestly, what better place to promote them than inside the Skeleton niche itself?

Right now, everyone wants to make Skeleton niche videos, but from what I've seen, most people simply don't know how. So instead of just giving them information, you can offer them a ready-to-use product they actually need - and earn a commission from it.

In this section, I'll be sharing tools that offer affiliate programs.

But before that, here's how to promote them properly:

- First, you usually need to sign up on the platform and generate your affiliate link. This is the MOST IMPORTANT part, because that's the only way the platform knows a sale came from you.
- Then, place that link in your bio (or link section) with a catchy headline above it.
- Next, in your videos, you can add a subtle overlay like: "Full guide in bio". Just don't overdo it - I've seen this hurt reach on YouTube many times.
- After that, your main focus is simple: get views. The more people see your content, the more clicks you'll get on your link.

1. https://algrow.tolt.io/
   This is basically a bundle of tools, but one of its main features is generating videos similar to the Skeleton niche.

All you need to do is sign up as an affiliate and generate your link. If you run into any issues, it's best to contact them directly.

Example of a page promoting it: https://www.youtube.com/@Prymals

Important: Don't do what he's doing (like saying "try aigrowonline" in the video).
People need to click your link, not search for the tool themselves.

If they already know the name, they won't go through your link - which means you don't get paid.

So always direct them to your bio or description instead.

2. https://mrknow.gumroad.com/affiliates

   Affiliate for my course. You can sign up as an affiliate for my course, then you'll get your own custom link that you need to share (for example, in your bio just like me etc) and if someone buys through this link you'll get 40% commission from this. Pretty simple.

3. https://helixpro.ai/#affiliates - this is a tool created specifically for Skeleton niche, so it will be super easy to promote it on your Skeleton channels. Affiliate commission is between 20-30%
